OUR BELOVED PROPHET IN ITALY

Our Beloved Prophet spent a weekend in Rimini, Italy, before going to the UK seminar. The Italian Raelians who were so happy and amazed to have him with them for their two day gathering. It began on Friday evening with a dinner celebrating the Jewish New Year.

Yoel, assistant of Leon Mellul for the Jewish community tells us:

A Dinner With the Messiah (מְשִׁיחַ)

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

On Friday, 22nd September, millions of Jews around the world were celebrating the Jewish New Year (Rosh Hashanah) - year 5767. Rosh Hashanah, which is celebrated on the first and second days of Tishri, marks the time when, according to tradition, The Elohim created the world. Rosh Hashanah, means "Head of the year" in Hebrew, and it is the time where Jewish families gather together to celebrate. It is the only Jewish holiday that is purely religious and not tied to historical or natural events.

On this particular evening many Jews have the same old wish - "Next Year in Jerusalem". Its purpose is to remind Jews of the coming era of the MESSIAH (Mashiach), when all Jewish people will return to JERUSALEM. (Or to the New Jerusalem as our beloved Prophet always says!)

During my trip last Friday to Rimini, Italy, to participate in a special dinner with our beloved Prophet and Mashiach, the Chief Rabbi of Milan (that I know personally), called me to wish me SHANA TOVA (happy new year), I couldn't miss the opportunity to tell him:

"On this New Jewish Year I will not say the old prayer wishing the Mashiach to come, as on this particular evening I am going to have dinner with the Mashiach himself. His name is RAEL... He will build the Third Temple (Embassy of the Elohim) in Jerusalem and reunite the House of IsRael with the House of Judah. In fact, the advent of the Mashiach is the ONLY hope that the people in the nations of the Commonwealth of Israel have. And he is already among us! Why don't you come also to meet him?" I said...

As all of you know, our beloved Prophet is not allowed to go to IsRael before the government recognizes him as the Mashiach, and gives him permission to build the Third Temple (Embassy of the Elohim) in Jerusalem.

During our dinner I decided to make a small surprise to our Beloved Prophet, so I brought him some land from Jerusalem and water from the Jordan River, at least, in that way, he can have a "little piece of IsRael" always with him! I know that our beloved Prophet said that there is a small chance that the Embassy will be built in IsRael... But still, I say that most of the important things in the world have been accomplished by people who have kept on trying when there seemed to be no hope at all. So we will never stop trying!

With all my Love

Yoel Ben Assayag

RAEL IN ITALY: HIS WORDS

And the weekend went on, full of poetry, fun, and religiosity, lead by Marco Franceschini the National Guide who knows how to bring beauty into every moment. At the end of the gathering, our Beloved Prophet gave us a speech that we will always remember.

Here it is from notes:

Buonjorsi ☺

(Buonjorno is too negative ☺)

I love you, the Elohim love you, the light loves you. I am proud of you, the Elohim are proud of you. Gerard just confirmed to me that the Italian team is the most dynamic team in Europe. There are people in the stars watching the Earth... Italy had the reputation of being disorganized but here I see a disciplined and united team that contradicts the image we traditionally have of Italy. I am proud of you. You are a model for all the countries of Europe. And why is it so? Maybe when one feels that he has a handicap of being disorganized, then one decides to be better than the others and thus becomes the best.

This is what Ferrarri did, this is the reason why Italy won the soccer world cup, why the economy is doing fine and this is also why it is going well in the movement too.

It is good to believe that one has a handicap, as one tries to become better. It is an act of humility. Humility is the biggest quality one human being can have. The most destructive flaw for human beings is pride. Its only antidote is humility.

Humility probably started with Brigitte and Marco seated looking at a starlit sky – Brigitte had just referred to that story of her and Marco spending a night looking at the stars in the sky during a seminar in Slovenia – because one must be humble while looking at a starlit sky otherwise one is either blind or an idiot.

If you look at a starlit sky and you don't see the stars, it means that you are blind. And if you see the stars and you don't feel humble, then you are an idiot. To be full of pride in front of a starlit sky is being an idiot and proud people are usually idiots☺

To look at the sky is a lesson of humility, it allows us to feel very small and then we can become big. If one is aware of being small, then one can grow. If one isn't conscious of being small, then one cannot grow because one feels big already. The one who feels big doesn't want to grow but the one who feels small in front of the stars has the desire to grow as he feels like a little piece of dust lost in the infinite, and this is what we all are.

When one looks at the sky and one doesn't feel humble, one is either blind or an idiot.

But you are not blind, you can see and you look at the sky and you feel very small. But at the same time, what do you see in the sky? You see the light. The light enlightens you and you feel like getting closer. We all want to get closer to the stars. If the sky had no stars, it would be dark, we wouldn't feel humble looking at it. On the contrary, we would feel like the center of the universe. The stars in the sky make us feel small. When we look at the sky, we feel small and at the same time, we feel attracted by the stars.

Children look at the stars and they feel like going there. Marco and Brigitte must have looked at the stars when they were kids and dreamt. Now they look at them like adults who want to go to the stars. They look at them with more strength because the little child who dreamt, that was cute, but now we are adults, we read the messages and we want to go in the stars.

Would you like to come with me to the stars?... and say bye-bye to Bush, Blair and Berlusconi? ☺

But if we are still here on Earth, it is because we still have something to do here - it means that our mission isn't over yet. Otherwise we would have been brought somewhere else and it would mean that it is over with this planet. But no, it isn't over here. All the small actions that we do are huge.

And this is what I do here on Earth. I am a little star who guides you to the light. This is what it is to be a Prophet. It is nothing else but someone who guides you to the light, who helps you to be bigger than you are. You are all wonderful people, full of love. It is in your genetic code. Sometimes education took you apart, gave you the illusion that you are only a machine made to eat, to sleep, to work and to reproduce. It is depressing and there are plenty of people full of despair around you as if we are only that, it wouldn't be worth living. We all had these thoughts once. And then the messages arrived and everything changed.

I have things to do on Earth. I can now have dreams larger than me and realize them. I can make other people dream, I can change the world, change the planet, change humanity.

To eat, drink, sleep and reproduce, it could be pleasant some times, but I can do things that are bigger than me, I can build an embassy to welcome them... wow, this is big!

Then you come, attracted by the light of The Messages, as you are attracted to the stars. The Messages are stars that attract you the same way. And you felt it. And what happens when you are facing the light?

You can only feel one with it and walk towards it. And this is when one stops using their left brain (the rational) and their right brain (the emotional).

When we have decisions to make in our life, we can be under an illusion and commit crimes that will make lots of people suffer and that will still appear very rational.

Let's remember that German people under the Nazi government had the feeling they were very rational. They thought that killing Jewish people was good for Humanity - just like in the Milgram experiment, 65% of the tested subjects were ready to inflict 450 Volts to individuals they didn't know, just for the sake of science. Almost seven out of 10 here in this room, or out there in the streets, are ready to kill if the government, the Church or the Pope is giving them the order. One day, it could happen that we hear: "we must kill that person as he/she carries a virus that will destroy Humanity". You shouldn't do it. This teaching is extraordinary!

Muslims are often criticized, but the Prophet Mohamed wrote: "In the blood of one single man one finds the blood of the whole Humanity". We can tell where these teachings came from, before they got distorted by others. We are far from those who are carrying bombs around their waists.

This is what we are reminded of today.

There is a joke that says that Bush is about to kill "100,000 Arabs and one hairdresser". Most of the people say: "Why a hairdresser?". The right comment should be: "Why 100,000 Arabs?", but it is now considered normal to kill Arabs, This joke is deep, it makes us think. Everybody asks: "Why a hairdresser?" instead of asking: "Why 100,000 Arabs?" It is funny, but it's sad as well.

To save Humanity by killing one individual is an illusion. The first Jewish person killed by Hitler contained all the others. If one accepts one victim, one accepts all the others. The life of one human being is more important than the whole of Humanity, whatever reason is given to you.

Our rational brain can push us to think the opposite and that it is good to do it to save Humanity. Imagine, we will all die in this room, but if we kill Gerard, then we will all live. Some could be tempted to say: "Let's sacrifice Gerard". Rationality. It would be an abominable crime. It would be an illusion that could come from our emotional brain as well, from our passion.

Politicians like Bush and Hitler are experts in the art of using reasoning to generate emotions. If I tell you that Gerard has a virus, I am talking to your rational brain, if I add that your kids will die, your dear little blonde heads, I am appealing to your emotions. This is what happened after September 11th, there were flags all over the American towns. "The American children are important, the Iraqi children are collateral damage".

Hiroshima population was 90% women and children before being bombarded. Men were at war. 300,000 women and children died at once, they were collateral damage. 70% of the American people still think that it was a good thing to send the nuclear bomb! Illusions created by emotions.

The illusions may come from the rational part of the brain or from the emotions. Both can lead to bad decisions. Remember - you may have been in a situation where you took decisions, within your relationship for example, following your logic or your emotions, that were really idiotic.

For example, your girlfriend bought a dress, a $2,000 dress and you have no money left until the end the month. This is an idiotic situation and rationally, it is a problem. But love is more important than the rationality of an excessive expense. Is it worth arguing, getting separated, even fighting? Or is this another emotional illusion that makes you complain because your partner looked at a person in the street... it could have been a cousin or an acquaintance... ☺

What do the Elohim say?

Rationality as well as emotions can generate illusions - wrong things. The only way to be 100% sure in your life that you are not living an illusion, is to follow the teachings of the Elohim.

Some critics may say that if we follow like sheep, we loose our capacity to think, we loose our free will. Is it good or bad? It depends on who you give your confidence, who you decide to follow. If you follow an imbecile, if you read books that are saying wrong things and you choose them to guide you, then you will be badly guided.

So, at first we read the Messages, we go through them with a critical mind, we process them with our judgment. If we find that it is good, if we choose them, then we follow them and we are sure not to be wrong.

What are the Messages saying? "If Rael tells you to do something that is against your consciousness, do not do it." We are the only ones in the world to have such a teaching. So, is it ok to abandon oneself to this teaching? Yes because if something is against my consciousness, I can say no.

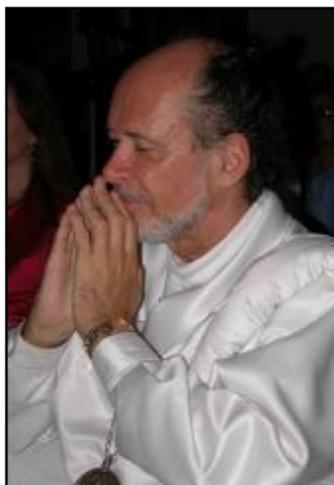

If the Elohim are coming and are telling you to kill someone to prove you love them, you must say no to them. One cannot be better. We are the only ones in the world with that level of teaching.

They also say that the life of one human being is more important than the whole of humanity.

So, yes, I follow the teaching and I do not put criticize what the Elohim are asking me to do. I follow, and when I follow, I am.

Yes, we must choose at first. Yes, we must have a critical mind at first. Yes, we must ask ourselves whether it is reasonable, whether it makes sense, whether it elevates me. Read The Messages again and again, and ask yourself if it is good. Once we have said yes, then let's stop the criticism. Let's follow as long as we aren't asked to kill.

I have decided to follow the light.

Each time one stops following the light, one goes towards the dark.

When we accept unconditionally the teachings and the guidance of the Elohim, we are sure not to be wrong.

If you trust your logic... psychiatric hospitals are full of fools who are extremely logical, they have an absolute logic that is hard to counter, but they are fools. The same applies to Hitler, he was a fool who wanted to kill Jewish people, old people, etc... Some may have adopted his logic, but they were wrong, they had no love. The spiritual guidance that says that the life of one single human being is more important than the whole of humanity was absent. And in passion it is the same. If one is passionate, the same applies. There are people who are so much in love that they kill the loved one and cry for the rest of their life... The emotion makes people lose their head.

How not to lose one's head? Follow the light, follow the teachings of the Elohim. Each time, in both the small and big moments of your life, abandon yourself to the Messages, to the Elohim, without emotions. What do they say? And I follow, without thinking, without emotions, because it can only be right.

I accepted at first, I read, I analyzed as you did, before becoming Rael. I have been the first Raelian and I said Yes. Because I know that following it will always be good. I don't always understand but after a few years I realize why they have been saying it. We all lived that. Sometimes we have a little something, but we have to forget about this little doubt as the teaching can only be good, it is light, respect and non-violence, so what do we risk?

If there was the smallest opportunity to hurt someone, to attack someone, we could say "be careful". But here everything is locked in an uncontestable way. So I abandon myself, as when you make love with someone, you abandon yourself. Yes, I agree to be a member of the structure and I abandon myself as I abandon myself to a lover in bed, fully. And then I reach orgasm, the spiritual orgasm of the link with the Elohim, to be one with them in every one of our actions, the small and the big ones.

What do I do when I launch actions like Clitoraid? I know that you want to abandon yourself and that you have a dream to be bigger than yourself, but you don't know how to do it, or not always. When I launch Clitoraid, I allow you to be greater than yourself and you did it. You were in your regions and you surpassed yourself!

The messages are beautiful, it is what is the most beautiful, but there are no actions.

Suddenly you found yourselves in the streets for Clitoraid, with banners and you became greater than yourselves, thanks to me, thanks to them as I am only the transmitter and my passion is to find new things to make you more than what you are. It is Clitoraid at the moment. There will be others. To give you an instrument that will make you greater because when I give it to you, you stand up and act, most of you.

Maybe some of you didn't do it? They missed something. Don't lose the perspective that these little actions are important, as when you are in action, you crystallize your thoughts, your ideas. Ideas are wishfull thinking. When you are in action, you gain the respect of humanity. To be Raelian is good. Nopedo, Clitoraid, Clonaid, all these actions force the respect and give you the opportunity to show that you are greater than yourself. You are not the little Italian anymore in his little apartment, his little car, his little life, but you are with the last Prophet, you save African women.

Now, while we speak – I have tears in my eyes - there are little girls in Africa with their legs open and the blood is running. Even in pleasure, I cannot prevent myself to see the blood running, to think about these women. But we aren't sitting around, we are in the streets with Clitoraid banners. The more we do it, the more the old women will understand that it isn't worth cutting anymore since we are repairing what they cut. It will disappear.

So, congratulations to you all. I want you to grow, to make you dream bigger and I have the feeling that I am successful. The biggest pleasure you can give me is to give me the feeling that I am successful in my mission by living bigger dreams, by becoming bigger than who you are, by following my words and by following the Messages of the Elohim.

Thanks to all of you.

RAEL IN ITALY: NEW BISHOPS

This weekend was also highlighted with the nomination of two new level 5 Guides:

It is in one the major cities of Mexico with about 3 millions inhabitants, that Nora, a Raelian of this region, rides every day in a car on which is written: "Neither god nor evolution, life has been created by Extraterrestrials called Elohim and they will come back soon. Get ready".

Bravo Nora :))

A Note from Leon, Continental Guide

October 2nd, 60

In this Day of Atonement where all the world's Jews are fasting since yesterday evening and spending their day praying in the synagogues, requesting forgiveness for their "sins" committed during the year, I received a video which distressed me.

How can a People which left the death camps and which has survived Shoa (holocaust) behave in such a way with its fellow human beings?

Rather than praying and unconsciously asking for forgiveness while fasting, while renewing their crimes the following day, they should ask forgiveness from the Palestinians for their daily crimes.

This video was made by Btselem, an Israeli pacifist organization.

The Raëlian Movement says NO to the reception of the funeral remains of De Brazza.

The media campaign orchestrated by the Government of Brazzaville at the time of the reception of the mortal remains of the De Brazza family, to celebrate the deceptive colonizer Pierre Savorgnan De Brazza and the inauguration of a scandalous mausoleum built to receive these remains, could not leave the Raëlian Movement indifferent.

PR Mengobi managed to reserve 1 hour of air time with Liberty Radio, the second most listened radio in the capital, where the Guides Mounkala and myself were to express the opinion of RAEL for a real decolonization of Africa, in all its aspects.

Alas, at the time of the appointment on October 1st, they let us know that it was cancelled but that we could negotiate another activity, that's how - then and there, we obtained 4 minutes of interviews on the news at 8:20am on October 2nd!

It was the Guide Mounkala who transmitted our message and it was done well:

The Raëlian Movement says a firm NO to this campaign which humiliates our people and removes whatever little dignity that remains.

A colonizer cannot be set up as hero or saviour of a nation. SHAME on you Congo Brazzaville! We will transform this mausoleum into a museum of the horrors of colonization and great shame.

These, in summary, were the remarks of Guide Mounkala on the radio.

We will continue this mobilization all week, by standing our ground in front of all the media so that our voice is heard. The Raëlian Religion wakes nations up.

CLITORAID ACTIONS

In France with Olivier

Olivier, an expert in paragliding, took part in a demonstration where all the participants were in costumes in the last weekend of September.

Olivier had chosen to represent Clitoraid. This is what he tells us:

'Bon jour' Everyone!

September 23/24 61 a.H.: One extraordinary weekend!

It was a Saturday where lots of costumed people could take off (more than 150). The weather was announced as bad for the weekend, but the demonstration was at least pleasant on Saturday, allowing us to express ourselves, while Sunday was gloomy and rainy.

With approximately 3,000 people at take-off and 1,000 at the arrival, the organizers and presenters could explain the motivation of my costume (an excised clitoris, see photo) and play a soundtrack that we had recorded previously as a bonus, in the field during takeoff.

Here is the text with the voice of Elisha, who came 4 - 5 times before sending the text:

"I prefer to let you hear my pleasure in cumming, thanks to the reconstruction of my excised clitoris, rather than to make you listen to 1,000 girls screaming because they are being excised. Today, thanks to extraordinary advances in medicine, excised women can rediscover their clitoris for free. The first operations have been successful... Currently, a hospital for pleasure is being built in Burkina Faso, thanks to voluntary doctors. So, if you wish to help millions of women like me, go check out the website: clitoraid.org"

Then, I took off, unfolding the banner (like at the Seminar in Switzerland), and after 10-15 minutes of flight and 700 meters lower, I landed carefully. The organizer at the bottom allowed me to speak about a taboo subject in our so-called 'advanced' society!!!

Sunday was a lesson for us to improve in our communication during events, for our future actions...

Conclusion: more than 1,500 distributed leaflets, a contact with M6, AFP contacted me for a mini telephone interview, for later distribution to the French press.

Thank you to all those who helped and supported me in this diffusion!
Hurray for new technologies that make diffusions even more crazy.

Way to go Michelle!

Boston, USA

France B. and a few others from Canada joined the local Boston team, lead by Kasyo, to hold a booth at a woman's convention.

Here is France's report:

We had so much fun and people from Boston were very open to Clitoraid. Sometimes we met people who were a bit scared of the name "Clitoraid" but most frequently, we heard that we have a great cause and they asked us to keep up our good work.

Unfortunately, we didn't reach our fundraising goal which was $2,000, but we learned a lot from it. We have to ask each and every one who is coming to the booth if they want to contribute and donate some money. When one person gives... it's contagious... the others give some money too. We don't have to be shy to ask for money... the cause is wonderful and supported by a lot of people... at least in Boston and the USA.

Also, we handed out about 2,000 flyers during the weekend and made very interesting contacts throughout the show.

Lipstick TV (lipsticktv.com) a local TV, wants to do something with us. There is also a woman from Boston who would like to do an interview on radio. Her show is call "The Frankie Boyer show". (Hortense did it that week).

Beside the goal of raising money, we met all our goals and we had so much fun... I really enjoyed doing it and I'm ready to help in any other regions if there's a show to organize.

The next women's show is in Chicago in November... ready to go there... ☺

The Angels in Ivory Coast ☺

By Kone Dete, Guide

I received a call from a Raelian who had just learned that there was going to be a meeting of women for their opinion on the situation of the war in Ivory Coast and so I registered. She called me on Monday at 1pm and the meeting was to take place at 3 pm.

I called the National Guide, and then Bané, who were not available. I wanted precise instructions, but finally I took off - I seized the moment, without instructions, with the assistance of my partner.

When I got there I found out that it was a meeting for registered women's organizations, and when they asked me I quickly said "I am the responsible for the Order of the Angels in Ivory Coast, which is an international organization". I entered the room, I registered on the list of those who wish to speak and I prepared my speech in my small pocket diary, not having paper sheets with me. The meeting was presided over by Minister and lawyer Mrs. Oble. This is what came out of it. Here is my presentation:

Meeting of Women's Organizations by the Representatives of the Forum of National Dialogue

We thank the representatives of the forum of national dialogue for their initiative in listening to women. Madame President, we wish you to be sincere and impartial in this initiative. We are the Order of the Angels of Ivory Coast, for the development of femininity, non-violence, delicacy and world peace.

We, the women, must allow the world to benefit from our femininity. We must listen, forgive. We go into churches, mosques, meetings and other congregations and we do not know how to forgive, we do not learn how to listen, nor to apply the teachings of our Prophets.

Let us not forget that it is us, the women, who give life, it is we who educate, and so that others can change, it must start with ourselves. We must make peace between us women before we can think of others.

Men failed in decision-making, in the capacities which they exert; it is time that women take over, but by making peace between us first. By using the femininity with which we are equipped - love, softness, delicacy, comprehension, and listening - because, to forgive, it is necessary to listen.

We are glad that this forum took the initiative to listen to us, but we find it deplorable that the group which animates this forum does not include traditional chiefs who handle the resolution of conflicts in Africa better than we do. And there is only one Muslim representative, where are the other religious representatives?

Thus we realize that Africa has forgotten its culture, its traditions, by not giving more value to our traditional chiefs, who deserve it. If we had always upheld our traditions, never would such a war have taken place on our soil. Simply with the alliances that bound the various nations of the Ivory Coast and Africa.

Those alliances, which excluded violence between ethnic groups, obligated us to absolute non-violence and forgiveness.

Let's not forget that we never had a prison on our African land. Whatever serious crime was committed by a being, the toughest sentence made under the Palaver Tree was to banish him from the village, by isolating him in the bush so that he meditated on his actions over 7 days. He could only return to the village after having learned his lesson in complete freedom and not locked up between four walls with more serious criminals.

Thus let us not forget our traditional chiefs in this process of peace.

We find deplorable the discrimination which reigns in our country and even within this forum which has received this morning some religious people but not others. As a person in charge of the Order of the Angels of Ivory Coast, I come from a religious minority and we are never invited to religious exchanges. Even for this exchange our organization was only advised at 1:30pm for a meeting which was to take place at 3 o'clock. Thus I could not prepare a proper speech. If Ivory Coast really hopes to end this crisis and to have final and total peace, it is time to accept all beings such as they are, whatever their differences and especially to appreciate the contribution of all, in the development of our country.

The initiative to bring women together to collect their opinions on the crisis is to be encouraged. But the wives of the political leaders are also women, there are some female political leaders present but where are the others, if they want peace as well, they should take part like all the women in these meetings to help Ivory Coast to find itself. The presence of Mrs. HOUPHOUET will also be useful to us in the search for peace.

No-one should be forgotten. It is the duty of this committee to invite all these women to these exchanges.

After the personal work of reconciliation between women, a female delegation must meet with all the leaders of the political scene individually, to know how each one envisions a return to peace. What are the concessions that each one is able to make while holding in account the other political leaders and the population of the Ivory Coast?

One needs the involvement of all the religions, including those known as religious minorities, so that rifles do not simply change shoulders. One needs a definite reconciliation by way of absolute non-violence.

Since we are in a secular nation, the Head of the State, should not display his religious affiliation because the whole nation must be represented by him. He must consequently be accessible to all the religions if need be.

We take this opportunity to congratulate the Head of the State for his decision to say no to the U.N.O. meeting and for choosing an African regulation.

Violence begets violence, it is thus important that we demonstrate for absolute non-violence whatever the cost and forgive violent people because to be violent is to have a sick mind. We should practice more qualities of femininity which are softness, delicacy, listening, forgiveness, love and non-violence.

It is necessary that disarmament be accomplished by way of women's non-violence.

How is that possible?

Simply by organizing a walk of naked women in the zones occupied by the new forces and at the PRIMATURE over 3 days.

If that does not work, all women should go on a hunger strike while refusing to prepare even in the maquis and restaurants during 3 days. And as the last resort, if that still does not work, would be the absence of sexual intercourse with all the men because the women refuse to share their pleasure with people who are violent, therefore who are sick. That is all part of our traditional African practices, let us not forget it.

How do we envision our country at the end of the crisis?

- 1) To nationalize all the foreign companies on Ivory Coast territory so that no more displacements of capital to the Western countries are allowed.
- 2) That all those who wish to remain on the Ivory Coast become legal citizens, as it is done in France, United States, Canada and other countries. Therefore we would not witness any more troops disembarking, who come and pick up our national citizens and create more heat in our country; since everyone would be from the Ivory Coast.
- 3) To obtain the departure of UNO and the French Army, which do not improve the crisis that we are going through at all.
- 4) To abolish the French language and adopt an Ivory Coast language, or to adopt English as a national language for the time being. This way it will take them time to figure out our plans for the future and they will not be able to manipulate.
- 5) To implicate our traditional chiefs further in the government and decision-making.
- 6) To make the United States of Africa with all the countries of Africa where all the Ethnic groups are represented by traditional chiefs, to allow Africa to become stronger without the colonizers, and to resolve our internal conflicts ourselves.

Madam President, Sirs, dear women this is the humble contribution of the Order of the Angels of Ivory Coast. Thank you for listening.

Peace, Love and Femininity to all.

Shizue made some researches about the prophecies announcing the Maitreya and found interesting texts... here they are, thanks Shizue!

No name will provoke so many attacks as that of Maitreya, for it is bound up with the future. Nothing provokes so much fear and irritation in people as thinking about the future. Agni Yoga (1929) - 336.

Understand once again that the time of changes of continents is approaching. Maitreya is coming, in the vanguard of science, addressing its new frontiers. All the problems of science and of the evolution of all that exists are of concern to the Teacher. Agni Yoga (1929) - 344.

Maitreya wishes to hasten all. Maitreya wishes that all should be successfully accomplished. Maitreya wishes you joy. Maitreya wishes to grant to humanity a gift through the fiery experience of Agni Yoga. Maitreya wishes to transform life on Earth in the radiance of the Mother of the World. Yes, yes, yes! The beauty of life is limitless! Hierarchy (1931) - 8.

Each Lord has his keynote. The Epoch of Maitreya proclaims woman. The manifestation of Maitreya is linked with the confirmation of the Mother of the World, in the past, present, and future. The "Book of Life" is so beautiful. Hierarchy (1931) - 13.
